

Troop 3 Merit Badge Counselor List

Feb, 2011

Scouts:

- The list below provides information on who you can contact for Merit Badges. HOWEVER, you must get a signed blue card from Mr. Gentry or Mr. Balot before you meet with the counselor.
- There are lots of opportunities outside in the community for working on merit badges. Please feel free to make use of those programs to help learn about the material. But remember, to be awarded the merit badge you must still meet with an approved Troop 3 merit badge counselor to discuss what you learned.
- Many of the requirements for merit badges can be started before meeting with a counselor. But please be careful about this. Some badges have requirements that specify that you must meet with a counselor before beginning. For example, you must get pre-approval before starting your 3 months of household jobs for Family Life. This is for your benefit. It will help avoid spending 3 months doing chores, only to later find out that the jobs were not acceptable for the badge.
